

WOMAN SWIMMER CIRCLES MANHATTAN

Miss Amelia Gade Makes Forty Mile Trip in 15 Hours and 57 Minutes.

VERY STRONG AT FINISH
Instructor at Harlem Branch of Y. W. C. A. Second One of Sex to Perform Feat.

Miss Amelia Gade, a native of Denmark and swimming instructor at the Harlem branch of the Young Women's Christian Association, swam around Manhattan Island yesterday, a distance of about forty miles, in 15 hours and 57 minutes. So far as records are obtainable, this is the second time that this feat has ever been accomplished by a woman.

Miss Gade, after her body had been coated with vaseline to enable it to withstand the hard journey, slipped into the Hudson River off the dock of the Young Women's Christian Association at Ninety-ninth street at 5:20 o'clock yesterday morning. Her friend and manager, Mrs. Adelaide Davidson, followed in a launch and Clem Cavan, a boatman at Naval Militia headquarters, followed in a rowboat.

At the beginning of her trip Miss Gade made a burst of speed for about fifteen minutes, to immerse her muscles and warm her body, but after that she settled down to a steady pace, using a breast stroke and an overhand crawl. She passed South Ferry, about seven miles from the starting point, at 7:56 o'clock, her average speed up to that time having been about three miles an hour. She passed under Brooklyn Bridge at 8:56 o'clock and with swimming under the structure she swam a few pieces of orange, the first nourishment she had since starting.

Passing under the Williamsburg Bridge at 9:52 o'clock, Miss Gade continued northward and reached East Twenty-third street at 10:30, after forcing her way through several dangerous whirlpools. She set out for Hell Gate, reaching those dangerous waters at half-past ten. She passed without mishap, and arrived at 123d street and East River at 12:30. There she paddled around leisurely for several hours, waiting for the strong tide to turn. There she also drank a cup of coffee and ate two sandwiches.

Miss Gade started again at 3 o'clock and made the remainder of the swim without difficulty. Several hundred persons were at the millia dock to welcome her when she landed at 2 o'clock last night. The first woman to swim around the island was Miss Ida Ellonay, who made the trip in September, 1916, in eleven hours and thirty-five minutes.

FIGHTS 3 BURGLARS, ONE PRISONER TAKEN

House Superintendent Gets Cop's Aid in Row.

Hugo Rullmore, superintendent of the twelve story dwelling at 23 East Eighty-third street, fought three burglars to force a door to the apartment of Miss M. E. Brown on the twelfth floor of the building early yesterday morning and attacked both of them. He had knotted one of the men down when a third stepped from behind the staircase with a drawn revolver.

The superintendent ran down stairs, leaning out of the open windows to lean the whistle. Patrolman Thomas Quinn responded, and he and Rullmore searched the building.

Two of the men escaped, but in the heated battle the superintendent found a man who was said to be John Murphy, 40, no address. In the fight, in which he was subdued, one of Rullmore's fingers was bitten. Murphy was held until he could be taken to Harlem Court on a charge of burglary.

STRIKE BALLOTS SENT TO ALL RAIL UNIONS

Workers Are Said to Oppose
Wage Cut of 12 P. C.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
CHICAGO, June 26.—Strike ballots were placed in the mail today by national chiefs of every railroad union, asking whether they would accept the 12 per cent. wage decrease ordered by the United States Railroad Labor Board July 1. Returns are expected about Tuesday.

Union chiefs asserted to-day they believe the men will vote against the decrease.

Officials of the railroad unions in this city said yesterday that the entire matter of the acceptance or rejection of the 12 per cent. wage cut will be decided upon by the Railroad Labor Board will depend on a general conference of representatives of 2,000,000 railroad employees in Chicago on Friday.

The union officials added that the general sentiment of the railroad employees is against a reduction.

The labor men stated that even some of the railroad officials themselves opposed a decrease.

NEWFOUNDLAND ROADS MAY CEASE OPERATION

Failure to Get Government
Help Is Cause.

St. Johns, N. F., June 26.—Unless negotiations between the Newfoundland Government and the Newfoundland Railway officials result in an agreement, operation of the system, which has a trackage of 1,000 miles, comprising the main lines in the colony, will cease midnight Thursday.

During the war the railroad was taken over by the Government. Recently it was returned to its owners, who asserted that the Government had not exceeded income that it would be impossible to continue operation without Government aid. As this was not forthcoming the decision to cease operation this week was announced.

HOLD NEGRO AS SLAYER.

Joseph Lawrence, 25, negro, of 1354 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, was held without bail yesterday for examination to-morrow in State court charged with killing Arthur Thompson, a negro, of 1955 Dean street, Brooklyn, and seriously wounding Margaret Smith, colored, of 1951 Atlantic avenue, on June 14. The police arrested Lawrence Saturday at Oyster Bay.

TWO HELD IN SILK THEFT.

Charged with participating in the theft of $5,000 in raw silk from the Tenny Company's plant Saturday, Joseph Madell, 25, and Louis Jasso, 35, of Paterson, were lodged yesterday in Hackensack jail. It is said both men were working at the plant, but went away Friday.

U.S. and Britain in War in 1924, Says Trotsky

LONDON, June 27.—A naval war between the United States and Great Britain as a result of maritime rivalry will occur in 1924, according to a prediction made by Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik Minister of War, in addressing the Third International at Moscow Friday. Trotsky said a despatch to the Daily Herald, the labor organ, from Moscow. "A swollen gourmand," was Trotsky's description of the United States, while he declared that Great Britain was losing her position of world significance, the pound sterling having been vanquished by the almighty dollar.

MEYER CITY INQUIRY USED AS AID OF CROOK

across the records of his own criminal activities in this State and thus be afforded an opportunity to steal them by acting as your aide in investigating the Police Department?

"It is part of the functions of your committee to enable your aides personally to observe the photographs in the Rogues' Gallery in the Police Department? If so, in this instance its purpose has been accomplished, for this man was one of those assigned later to the Police Department.

"Is it not somewhat ironical to have a jailbird going over the records of the License Department in connection with gathering data on the property of a fellow jailbird to have licenses as taxicab hackmen? This you have permitted.

"I would seriously urge that you take up with your committee or chief counsel the urgent necessity for confining your staff to investigators who are not themselves criminals or convicted felons or who have not themselves been in the association with such wrongdoers. In that way the purpose of the committee will be effectuated and the various aid funds and persons in the safety of departments will be kept inviolate.

"It should not need stating to you that individuals with criminal records who have not been restored to citizenship are no proper persons to be a part of an charter revision expedition, such as your committee has asserted itself to be engaged in. This is equally true with respect to the unsuitability of having such individuals in contact with members of the Citizens' Union on your payroll."

Meyer Gives His Side.

After explaining the circumstances of the case, Senator Meyer said: "Commissioner O'Malley greatly exaggerated the facts and tries to make a big thing out of a very unimportant matter. Sohr was not an investigator, but a process server. He held the usual form of credentials. He assisted an examiner on occasion who went to the Department of Markets to get records which were public records and which any one, whether an employee of this committee or not, has the right to examine. I appointed Sohr to serve subpoena at the request of a member of the committee, who had been urged to obtain his appointment, with assurance of his ability and trustworthiness. As soon as we discovered he had been convicted of a crime, although he had performed satisfactorily the duties assigned to him, we felt compelled to drop him."

The Senator said the committee would go further into the matter to-day. The member to whom he referred could not be named at present, and the records were not available.

Sohr's Criminal Record.

Police records in the Rogues' Gallery indicate that Sohr was arrested by a man named Karl Sohr, known as No. 40,321. He has been known as Charles Horn, Charles R. Horman, Charles Hornar and Karl Sohr.

As Karl Sohr he was arrested in Bridgeport, Conn., in March, 1913, for passing worthless checks and was sentenced to serve from one to two years in the State Prison at Jails. He was arrested in Springfield, Mass., on a charge of larceny and discharged.

The next entry shows that on December 17, 1915, he was arrested in New York for passing a check for $100. He was sentenced to serve one year and pay $100 fine. On November 24, 1916, he was again arrested for larceny and forfeited his bail bond.

As Charles R. Horman, he was arrested in Philadelphia in August, 1918, for larceny and was discharged. Under the same name he was picked up in Kansas City in November, 1919, for shoplifting and there was no disposition of the case.

Again appearing as Karl Sohr, he was arrested in New York in September, 1918, for grand larceny and jumped his bail.

Karl Sohr was arrested in Chicago on December, 1918, on "general principles" and no action was taken. In February, 1919, he was arrested in Philadelphia, where he was arrested for grand larceny, and in March, 1919, was convicted in New York for grand larceny and sent to Sing Sing for one year.

He was arrested in Cleveland for grand larceny on January 21 last and no disposition was made of the case.

ARSON IS SUSPECTED IN TENEMENT BLAZE

Dumbwaiter Shaft Found
Soaked in Kerosene.

Fire Marshal Brophy was asked last night to investigate a fire that destroyed the top of the dumbwaiter shaft in the tenement at 1855 Second avenue. According to the report made by Policeman Dinan, who extinguished the blaze, the framework of the shaft as well as that part of the roof near the opening had been soaked with kerosene.

Smoke filtered down the shaft and attracted the attention of half a dozen tenants just before 9 o'clock. Dinan called from the street, went to the shaft to inspect it and withdrew his head from the cellar opening in time to avoid being struck by the dumbwaiter, which dropped when the ropes were burned. The fire was extinguished by Dinan.

Two COOL DAYS WITH SHOWERS ARE FORECAST

Increasing Cloudiness Is Prediction for To-day.

The delightful coolness of yesterday is to continue for a couple of days, according to the Weather Bureau. It probably will be interspersed with scattered thunder showers, however, though there is little likelihood of a steady rain just yet.

A high pressure area that developed over New England, bringing some northerly winds, was responsible for the drop in temperature, the Weather Bureau said. The highest temperature reached yesterday was 74 and the lowest 66. The northerly winds were predicted Saturday night, but it was expected they would raise the humidity and increase cloudiness. This part of the prediction failed.

There will be increasing cloudiness, most of to-day and to-morrow, it is predicted.

And Right There Is Where I Made My Big Mistake.

THIRSTY SNAKE GETS JAG ON 'HOOTCH' AND DROWNS

Laps Up Trickle Until He Reaches Bottle, Crawls In, Drinks Way to Bottom, Crawls Out, Then Dies, Pointing Temperance Moral.

A little while after the popping of the cork and the fazing of the brew a foot and a half garter snake came along, having come down from the mountain to what he called sea. He sniffed the home brew, he gulped bit of it, and he quickly drank his way along the thin stream until he reached the bottle. Then he crawled up and into the bottle, and he drank his way to the bottom. After that he crawled out again, fell off the plank when he tried to retrace his steps (or wiggles) and finally he made a very zigzag course to the dock.

It was perfectly obvious that the snake was frazzled, as the saying is, to the eyeballs. He crawled foolishly around the dock for a few moments, apparently with a very discouraged outlook upon life. Finally he tried to crawl along the edge of the dock, but wobbled so that he slipped and fell into the lake. He was seen no more.

U. S. IN WHITE SLAVE GENEVA CONFERENCE

Major Johnson, Social Hygiene
Envoy, to Have Unofficial Voice.

The United States will be represented unofficially at the International Conference on White Slave Traffic in Geneva, Switzerland, June 30, by Major Bascom Johnson of the American Social Hygiene Association. Although most of the delegates will be official representatives of their respective Governments, Major Johnson's position will not be isolated. Delegates of unofficial status will be permitted to speak before the conference, but voting power is reserved for official representatives.

As the conference is a continuation of activities begun before the outbreak of the world war, invitations were sent not only to members of the League of Nations but to all signatories of the White Slave conventions of 1904 and 1910. An invitation to the United States was sent from Geneva on February 24, but it seems to have been lost in transmission, as the State Department denies having received it. The attendance will be large, only two or three of the large number of countries invited having declined to send delegates. Michel Levis, State Councilor of Belgium, will preside at the sessions.

The first business of the conference will be to ascertain what has been done by the various States to carry out the conventions of 1904 and 1910. For this purpose the secretary sent to all Governments last February a questionnaire designed to bring out how severe the laws of all countries are toward white slavers and to locate laxity and indifference in dealing with the evil.

CROWDS RIOT AT GRAVE.

Monuments Overturned at Funeral of Lucille Marcel, Soprano.

VIENNA, June 26.—Great crowds gathered Saturday at the funeral of Lucille Marcel, operatic soprano, who was the wife of Felix Weintraub, the conductor. During the burial services thousands of persons made a rush for the graveside, overturning monuments and railings. In the crush many were trampled, and it was necessary to summon police reserves.

The Burgoonmaster was finally called upon to address and rebuke the crowd.

WAIT FOR TIMBER FROM FIGHT ARENA

Thrifty Builders Think Breaking Up of Stadium Will Bring Down Lumber Prices.

Prospects of a further break in lumber prices in the metropolitan building construction market after the Carpenter-Dempsey fight in Jersey City through the dismantling of the giant timber stadium and the sale of the lumber required in following the policy.

Fanciful estimates as to the total quantity of lumber obtained from this block square structure, rising three stories above the ground, are entertained by prospective builders in New York and vicinity. The original estimate for the lumber requirement of this arena was 1,300,000 board feet, but the total quantity that will be used in the structure and enclosures will approximate 1,000,000 feet.

Thrifty home builders have told their architects that they will wait before proceeding with home construction until they can take advantage of the dismantling of the stadium and the sacrifice sale of the lumber which speculators will offer this material to the public.

There are several reasons why prospective purchasers of this lumber will be attracted in following the policy. Much of the material used in the construction of this amphitheatre is sawed wedge shape, thus rendering it unfit for home construction use.

Two million feet of lumber, as compared with the present market's supply of approximately 100,000,000 feet, which is low compared with the market's supply in distribution, hands last year at this time, is not sufficient to affect market prices, especially in view of the fact that the market price actually advanced last year by the fact that millions of feet of building lumber were dumped upon the market while the military camps were being demolished.

Syndicate Would Buy Structure.

Furthermore, the chances of this lumber being thrown upon the market immediately after the contest are somewhat remote in view of the fact that negotiations are under way for a syndicate to take over the huge structure for other athletic exhibitions during the tenure of the temporary building department of Jersey City, and even beyond that period if possible. It is considered more than likely that the syndicate will not be able to make available even to second hand material dealers until the 1921 building construction season is so far advanced as to make the waiting policy risky.

In the meantime building construction is taking on a definite stride. Gauged by the quantity of materials moving out of dealers' yards, the actual building erection work, the following table showing the volume of basic material distribution during the building season of 1920 accompanied by the season so far advanced in 1921 indicates the gaining strength of the New York market:

	1920	1921
March	1,000,000	1,500,000
April	1,000,000	1,500,000
May	1,000,000	1,500,000
June	1,000,000	1,500,000

Apartment house construction is the predominant type of building work now taking materials almost as fast as they arrive in the market. On actual figures there are no large loads of brick on sale in the wholesale market, although more brick was on the way down the river to meet Monday's market. Brick prices, at first, at 4 and 4.5 thousand wholesale, to which must be added the cost of handling, hauling and 10 per cent. for delivered prices.

Dealers Carrying Light Stocks.

The most conservative building material and equipment supply firms are basing their estimates for building activity for the near future on the fact that approximately that of 45 per cent. of the 1914 building construction market in New York. For small house and apartment work, the suburban building market is also active. Distributors are planning for about half the 1914 level in demand for the remainder of the current building season.

By building material distributors are meeting competition below present list prices. Even on attractive volume close buyers say it is becoming increasingly difficult to crowd bidders to a point as low as possible.

The continued development of the building construction movement now definitely under way is stimulated by reports in the various trades of the progress being made looking toward wage reductions in the building trades. The local building market is expected to be a steady stream of electrical workers. Building investors are inclined to look upon the success of the present movement as the means of finally almost insuring the final barrier to a speedy resumption of general construction which might readily enter the autumn at a pace equivalent to 90 per cent. of 1914 activity.

SUBURBAN MARKET.

The stucco dwelling on a large plot at 14 Phillips place, Yonkers, has been sold for the Westchester County Savings Bank by M. A. Broderick to Mrs. Rose L. Broderick, a widow. The same broker sold the three story house at 129 Warburton avenue for the Edie Realty Company to Benjamin Weintraub of Manhattan for occupancy.

R. H. Albert Johnstha sold the nine room house at 42 Central avenue, Flushing, for Jerome E. Jennys to Harold A. Bernore of Brooklyn.

J. Albert Johnstha sold to Harry Cern three lots on the east side of Twenty-fifth street, near Sanford avenue, Broadway-Flushing, for Bernhard Miller of this city.
